THE TIGER

DON KEIPP

D.K.—
Well good buddy, what can I say? We've had many a fun time together (Basketball, bowling and the rest, even prom when we tripled!) and the years. I'd like to say more but Ruth wants to pass it on! You're a great guy Don and a great guy to be around. Best of luck, you deserve it!

Mick "69"

P.S. I really like your car!

Dedication

We, the Class of 1968, do hereby dedicate the 1968 Tiger to you, Mr. Botts, for the fairmindedness, cooperation, and sense of dedication you have so often displayed during your years at CHS.

All of us have been in someway associated with you, either in drivers' education, physical education or in one of the various sports of which you are coach. In way of a small "thank you" for the assistance you have given us during our high school years, we should like to dedicate this annual to you.

Tune of "Yesterday"

Yesterday, all our dreams were looking toward this night,
Now the future lies within our sight.
We hope we all may serve it well.

Suddenly, all our carefree high school days are gone,
And we know that we must now move on,
And claim our place in this wide world.

With our memories we look back on CHS.
And with faith in God we pledge to give our best.

Now tonight, we are entering into our own,
And we pray that we'll not stand alone,
Oh, yesterday came suddenly.

Senior Class Will

I, Bill Ray, will my ability of getting detention slips to Larry Thomas, providing that he receives twice as many detentions as I have.

I, Hanna Schuett, will my ability of making eyelines for the entire girls' basketball team to the next foreign exchange student.

I, Bud Brant, will Jim Rettinghaus to Susan Gould and Dizzy to Mike Sumpter, providing that they keep them in good condition. To Doug Jones I will a girl living in a trailer not far from town. I also will the school of CHS to all the underclassmen.

I, Lois Sickora, do hereby will this fine school and all the fine teachers to any class which has the ability to prosper as well as our Senior Class has under the influence of our reputation.

I, Mike Bell, will my great driving ability to Mike May, providing he loses his license at least twice during his life.

I, Debbie Smith, will to anyone Mr. Engelbert, provided that they keep him as lovable and even-tempered as ever.

I, Eddie Thompson, will to this school everything that it deserves.

I, Donna Nichol, will my pretty hair and even prettier feet to Debbie Dooley.

I, Jim Ahn, will Jim Rettinghaus to Susan Gould, providing she takes good care of him and keeps him away from Dizzy. I also leave one dollar a week to Doug Jones so he can buy gas to go to Valeria in order to see Connie.

I, Pam Kintz, will Jerry Ingraham to all the teachers, providing they beat him twice a day and put him on the flunk list each week. I also will my ability not to get called down for long bangs to Kathy Baldwin providing that she never gets them cut, no matter what.

I, Howard Wearmouth, will my ability to get kicked out of school for reading educational books to everyone and I also will Peggy Haney to Dean Baker, since that is all that he ever talks about.

I, Ronna Cox, will my ability to get out of classes to any one who likes to type as much as I do.

I, Linda Jabaai, will my ability to chew gum in class to Jody Tomlonovic providing that she chews ten sticks of bubblegum as gracefully as I can and without getting caught.

I, Marilyn Beard, will my looks and my locker to any junior providing they use the looks more and keep the locker cleaner, my fingernail clippers to Mr. Botts and the wrestlers so they won't have to borrow a pair, and to any girl, my ability to wear successfully long bangs and short skirts.

I, Alan Normandin, will my parking place in the cabin parking lot to anyone who promises to peel out every night as I have in the past year.

I, Fredena Lester, better known as Fred, don't have much to will to anyone; however, I would like to will my ability to get by with murder in home-economics to certain freshmen girls in hopes that they will use it next year for Mrs. Schlott's benefit.

I, Chuck Wyer, will Peggy Haney to Mike Harmison, providing that he takes good care of her. I also will Larry Thomas to anyone who will take him.

I, Dixie Smith, will my great position of shortstop to Debbie Thomas as long as she promises to throw her glove on the ground at least four or five times during practice and I also will my excellent track ability to the one who needs it the most--Dixie Bogard.

I, Patrick Teed, do hereby will my innocent thoughts and well-behaved actions to Marvin Lind and Glen Van Baale. I also will Uncle Tom to all of the underclassmen in hopes that they will enjoy his fine supervision more than I did.

I, Carlotta Naisbitt, will my conceit to anyone who wants it, providing they don't brag about it as much as I have.

I, Randy Briles, do hereby will to Pat Neal the position of editor of the "Orange and Black," providing that she can effectively frustrate Mrs. Grosvenor as much as I have in the past by the use of my infamous "long sentences" of which this is a prime example.

I, David Wadsworth, will to the biology class my brain, providing they can find it, since Mr. Jones has already threatened to rattle it out.

I, Cheryl Henderson, will Freddie to my sister, Jane, as long as she keeps turning down his many offers.

I, Ed Wegele, will my brain power to Norman Rosenbaum in hopes that he will flunk.

I, Susan Wallis, will the senior girls' ability of borrowing prom dresses to the senior girls of "69", providing they borrow instead of buy their dresses.

I, Frank Krohn, do hereby make this my last will and testament. To Norman Rosenbaum I do hereby will all my sport's statistics and I hope that he, too, will realize that the Yankees were and are the best team in baseball. I also will to Norman, when he becomes a senior, the darkroom, providing he spends at least one study hall a day in it. To Mr. Truog, I do hereby will back all the passes I have used these last two years. To Bill Riddle, I do hereby will my "no" vote in the Student Council providing he uses it well. To Mr. Jones, I hereby will one slide-rule, one engineering kit, and all the trigonometric identities he cares to ever see plus 10.9 seconds to do them in.

I, Donna Vande Kieft, do hereby will my sister, Jean, to anyone providing they can help her as much as I have. She seems to need all the help she can get.

Me, myself, and I, Harry Reed, will to the underclassmen, and Marvin Lind, since he needs all the help he can get, all my good habits. All of my bad habits will stay with me because Marvelous Marv has enough bad habits of his own.

I, Peggi Wilson, have nothing to will except my body (when I die) to the biology lab for further study.

I, Susan Lester, do hereby will by inability to play the flute to Barbara Hanna so that she can make as many mistakes as I have, and I also will my inability to produce the most "Fabulous" annual Colfax has ever seen to the Annual Staff of next year in hopes that they do not have as much trouble as I have had this year.

To Jody Tomlonovic, Brenda Beals, Peggy Haney, and Janet Heggen, I, Kathy Daniels, do will two white sheets, two pillow cases, and one half mile of city blocks. To Margaret Ward I will Harold and his helicopter, only if she promises to protect him.

I, David Grosvenor, do hereby ordain and establish this as my last will and testament. In order to create a more perfect school I will my typing eraser to Pat Vaughan, my locker to Jim Ward (he needs it), all of my books to Ruth Grosvenor, my pen and pencil to Doug DeGraff, eighty trees to Barb Weirick, a C.B. set to Kirby Monroe, and a complete collection of math papers to the highest bidder. Note: will trade math papers for a certain red corvette.

I, Connie Varese, do hereby will CHS to all the underclassmen, providing they take as good care of her as we have, this includes: soaping her windows during Halloween, painting the sidewalks and stop signs at Homecoming, and last, keeping the principal even-tempered (always angry).

I, Earl DuRocher, do hereby will Dizzy to Mike Sumpter, providing he keeps her away from Jim Rettinghaus. I would hate to see what Susan Gould would do to him if she found out.

I, Bonnie Bell, will my fantastic ability to get all goofed up in shorthand to anyone who takes short hand next year.

I, Brad Davis, hereby will my ability of getting on Mrs. Winter's nerves in speech class and fifth period study hall to Max Allsup and Kerry Battles, provided they can handle two weeks of individual study of fifth period study hall, getting kicked out of class a few times, and threats of a mouth washing with soap.

I, Don Wing, do hereby will my ability to wrestle to Gary Osborn, as long as he promises to keep this sport as a school activity and does not use it for his own gains.

I, Don Keipp, will not. (STOLEN MATERIAL) AG

We the class of 1968 do hereby sign, seal, and declare this our last Will and Testament.

Senior Class Prophecy

Welcome everyone to the last college football game of the season. This is David Grosvenor, your sportscaster for today's big game. It's a beautiful day here at the Rose-bowl and spectators are literally pouring in from all over the country. Let's see if we can't spot some of the better known personalities among the crowd.

There's Connie Varese, looking for a place to sit. She looked stunning on television the other night when she received an Oscar for Phyllis Diller's most attractive hairstyle of the year. In the center of the field is a pre-game exhibition featuring that famous tag team, Jim Ahn and Bud Brant, who earn millions by boxing kangaroos all over the world. I see that Hanna Schuett, still studying in Germany, has come back for a rematch with the Amer-icans. I wonder who will lose this time.

And now, coming into the stands amid cheering supporters is the President of the United States, R.D. Briles, and his Secret Service Agent Frank Krohn, who together have finally united Germany and France with the United States.

Wait just a minute. I think I hear drums pounding in the distance. Yes, it is drums! Evidently, those of CHS were too tame for Eddie Thompson. He now seems to be lead drummer for the head hunters of the Amazon.

Over to my left I see General D.D. Wadsworth who has just received his fifth star within three days in an unusually long poker game.

An who's this running around the field, jumping over the goalposts? Why it's Howard Wearmouth, the leading advertising man for Red Ball Jets.

I notice that Donna Nichol Teed has come to the game today. I understand that after ten years a light is still burning in her window for her husband who is still doing K.P for the Army.

My gosh, what's Donna Vande Kieft doing here? She still has two more years to serve in prison for embezzling money from the First National Bank. They must have paroled her for good behavior or else she started singing in the shower again.

I heard an interesting item on the news this morning as I was driving to the stadium. It seems that a Professor Charles Wyer has just proven his newly developed theory: "Fords eat Chevy's" if you just give them time to grow from a mustang to a mare.

Pat Teed is directly in front of me, I'm going to see if I can't get his attention. Pat, as most of you know, tests the durability of new cars to withstand the impact of telephone poles. I guess he had to be on his way but he did mention a few tips about his friends. He said that Terry Leonard was still trying to out-run Berney Noble in a red chevy with a matching blue trunk. Alan Normandin is apparently still looking for a secret parking place. You'd think that he would get smart after a while and just give up.

Pat says that Peggi Wilson and Carlotta Naisbitt can still be seen riding around the square in Newton with an occasional trip to Henry's or the Clark Gas Station.

Now it's time to get back to the game. As you know it is half-time and we have a vocal duet for the crowd's entertainment. These lovely voices belong to Susan Lester and Linda Jabaai. Both are married and have several children but, what many people DON'T know is that Linda is starting a school for young brides who still have to have mommy's help.

Oh no! Someone just fell out of the stadium and onto the field. Why, it's Lois Sickora, that cordial airline stewardess who is forever taking the passengers' courtesy bags for herself.

Coming out to assist Lois is Earl DuRocher. Earl, I understand, has invented a new food to sell in his chain store called "Fix-it Instant." Truth has it that it's just a bit of sand and food coloring but, you must admit, it's a way to make a living.

I notice that Billy Ray is here today. Billy can often be seen climbing hills on his little Honda. Last week he took first place in the Women's Division at the National Motorcycle Meet in Colorado. Coming behind Billy is Harry Reed, first replacement for the fourth string quarterback of the Green Bay Packers.

As the game starts to begin in the third quarter, I can see Dixie Smith returning from the refreshment stand. Dixie is now retiring from the position of manager of the Texas Track Girls and becoming President of a health studio.

This, folks, you would have to see for yourself! Susan Wallis has brought her whole family to this game. I know that it doesn't sound like anything unusual but what would you think if a woman and her children filled one section of the stadium?

I see Cheryl Henderson sitting in the President's box. She is his new executive secretary and in one month has already broken two transcribing machines.

If I'm not mistaken, I think I see Marilyn Beard escorted by her chauffeur. The world's second richest woman, Marilyn, has been divorced five times and is waiting for another chance at the same old Tom.

Someone has just called my attention to a disturbance in the lower section of the stadium. It appears to be Ed Wegele exciting a demonstration of some sort. I never would have expected such a promising boy to flunk out of every college and become a member of the P.H.S. (Professional Hippies Society.) Helping Ed is Don Wing. Evidently he has gotten tired of the dull routine of a teenage marriage counselor, and has decided to "get away from it all."

A man is coming out of the stands to try and calm down the demonstration. He is Brad Davis, the man with a hundred wives but not one marriage license.

As we begin the fourth quarter, Bonnie Bell Woodyard and Debbie Smith pass in front of me, leading their children. I don't know why but it seems that every time I see one of Debbie's children, he has printer's ink smeared all over his face.

A well-known but seldom seen figure in the audience is Don Keipp. Don, a Hollywood "has-been", was once famous on the drums. He was soon forgotten, however, when he made the mistake of trying to become a comedian. His friends told him to just keep beating the drums.

Adri Fluks just caught my attention. So, he finally came back. I wonder if he really knows just how many girls' hearts he broke when he went home in 1968.

Sitting next to Adri is Mike Bell, a tycoon in the gasoline business. I remember when Mike opened his first station, or is "opened" the right word? He never seemed to find enough time for the gas station between fishing trips.

Pam Kintz is apparently leaving before the end of the game. She is a rather proficient secretary I understand when she lets her boss, Hugh Everett, off of her lap.

With only three minutes remaining in the game, there is a car driving across the field followed by two police cars. I should have known. It's Ronna Cox, international play-girl, driving the car. Fredena Lester, the world renown Turkish dancer who got her start in the girls' locker room at CHS, is riding along.

Well folks, the game is over. It's been another big year with alot of big discoveries. You may scoff at these predictions, even ridicule their author, but never forget, anything is possible.

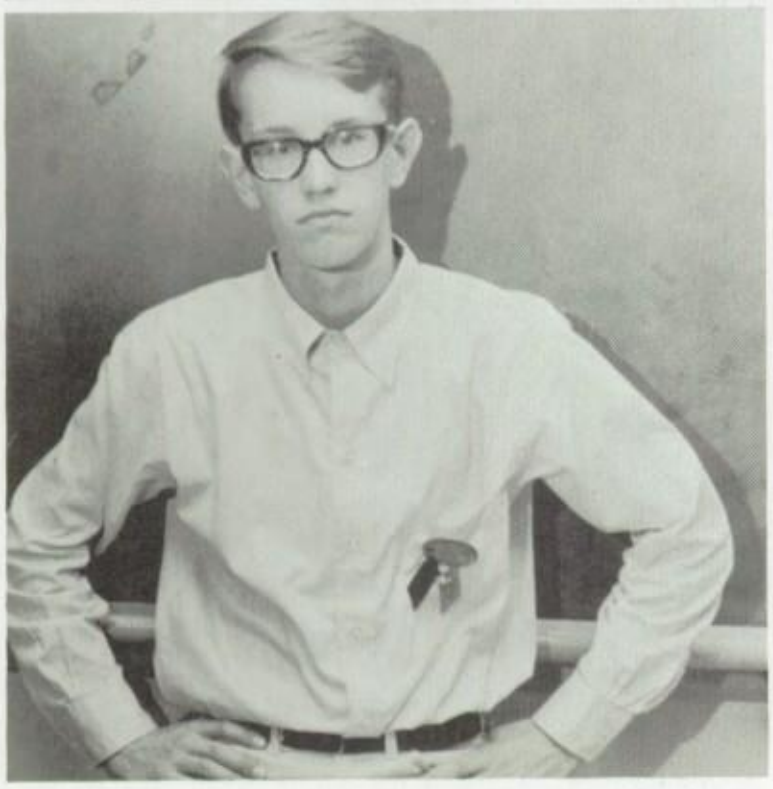
Foreign Exchange Students

Adriaan Fluks from Amsterdan, Holland, was the first foreign exchange student from the Netherlands to attend Colfax Community School. He resided with Mr. and Mrs. Keith Keipp and family. He returns to the Netherlands this summer and plans to study geology at the University of Amsterdam.

A few of Adriaan's comments about this country were: "Americans live very happily. They are friendly but also very busy. The Dutch are more calm."

Hanna Schuett from Hannover, Germany, is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Heinrich Schuett. She resided in Colfax at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Daniels and family. In July she returns to Germany where she has one more year at Sophie-School Gymnasium. Later she will attend a university.

One of her opinions of Colfax Community School is, "It isn't as difficult as the schools in Germany." She also liked the many teen-agers who surrounded her everyday in her classes.



It has been only half a year and even less that that, that I have wandered around at the CHS, but still it has been a nice time together.

We have had a lot of fun altogether and even, sometimes, there were values and notions to pick up that made my stay even, for me, more worthwhile.

All I can say is a sincere thank you and see you again, all of you.

It's pretty difficult to think of something original to write in any yearbook after four years of the same old stale compliments and such crap. But because this is your last annual, perhaps I should spend a few necessary facts about yourself which may very well interest you when they trickle through to you many years from now. (I hope it will be many years from now!)

We've had some wonderful times together in high school (and some not so wonderful times). I'll never forget the [redacted] days. But, some of the stupid things we've done, as well as [redacted] ing ice skating together, or toboganing and at [redacted] numerous Noble Hill dances, weekends through the years of Adri Fluks, choir practice, rotten Sunday [redacted] a certain football game at Seneca, all the parties we attended, a few too much bitters, the day at Pinckney, my first ride in your new car, a wonderful day at the West state fair, a certain French girl, and last but not least, a very special Christmas Eve when I was a freshman in high school. Some of the things I've mentioned probably mean very little to you, but they were and are pretty special to me. I hope you have kept a few pleasant memories from high school which include me. Six years is a long part of your high school years. You're getting a build and old to look out to find someone else who can live up to you! But then, I told you that many times in the past. You're a beautiful girl with terrific good looks, intelligence, and a sense of humor. I'm sure only I will ever fully appreciate it. I hope you get exactly what you want out of life. You're a fine person and deserve the best!

Love,
Bud

P.P.S. - Did you know your Dad's station wagon had a bit part in "Guess who's coming to Dinner"? I saw it!
